3. Read the following passage and make a precis in about 1/3 of the given words. Also suggest a suitable title : (14)

He who is lacking in hope must perish. No one can save him by offering alms or some other help. He must be made to realize that what is not possible for a single individual will be possible when fifty unite in a group. The fifty who have hitherto cultivated their separate holding side by side will have all the advantages of a large working capital if they pool all their resources—land, labour, granaries. A farmer can hardly do good business with a small daily surplus of a seer of milk, but if a hundred men collect all their spare milk, they can produce and sell ghee after they have a butter churning machine. In Europe, this is a common practice. People in Denmark and other small countries have combined and by proper marketing of butter, cheese and cream, they have eliminated poverty from their lives. Besides trade contracts have made these farmers and dairymen realize their close kinship with the people of the world and their minds have become enriched with understanding and knowledge.

UNIT - IV

4. Read the passage given below and answer the questions :

It is height of selfishness for men who fully appreciate in their own case the great advantage of good education, to deny these advantages to women. It is argued that women have their domestic duties to perform, and that if they were educated they would busy themselves in their books and have little time for attending to the management of their households. Of course, it is possible for women, as it is for men, to neglect necessary work in order to spare more time for reading sensational novels. But women are no more liable to this temptation than men and most women will be able to do their household work during the intervals of leisure with little reading. Nay, education will even help them in the performance of the narrowest sphere of womanly duty. For education involves knowledge of the means by which health may be preserved and improved and enables a mother to consult such modern books as will tell her how to rear up her children into healthy men and women.

Questions :

- (a) What argument is given against education of women ? (3)

- (b) How can education help women ? (3)
- (c) In what way are men selfish ? (3)
- (d) Use in sentences of your own : (3)

“The Law, howsoever rigid it may be, has to be interpreted in a flexible manner so as to see that the rule of law is not abrogated. A statute is the will of the Legislation and an Indian statute is an act of the central legislature or of a state legislature. It includes Act passed by the imperial or provincial Legislatures in pre-independence days as well as Regulations. In interpreting or constructing a statute, the obvious method would be to start with the literal interpretation. But then, what is the literal meaning of a word. It is the ordinary, plain meaning we give to words. Therefore, the first rule that Judges have laid down is that the words of an enactment are to be given their literal meaning and if such meaning is clear and unambiguous, effect should be given to a provision of a statute, whatever may be the consequences. The process by which one tries to understand the intention of the legislature through the letter of the enactment is called interpretation. The object of all interpretations of a statute is to determine what intention is conveyed, either expressly or impliedly, by the language used, so far as is necessary for determining whether the particular case or state of facts presented to the interpreter, falls within it. This means the real object of it is to unfold the ambiguous words and expressions and to resolve the inconsistencies."

There is no doubt that the criminalisation of politics is a matter of grave concern and debated throughout the country and all measures are being taken to prevent it and to ensure criminal free politics. No criminal should be allowed to contest election or to cast his vote. In view of this the Election Commission has recommended that any person convicted by the Court and sentenced for more than six months should be disqualified from contesting elections for six years. The Election Commission has also suggested a number of change's in the present Representation of peoples Act to remove the lacunae that have provided for criminals to contest elections.

Unit-IV

4. Read the given passage and answer the questions that follow :

Unquestionably, a literary life is for the most part, an unhappy life, because if you have genius, you must suffer the penalty of genius ; and if you have only talent, there are too many cases and worries incidental to the circumstances of men of letters as to make life exceedingly miserable. Besides the pangs of composition, and the continuous disappointment which a true artist feels at his inability to reveal himself, there is the ever recurring difficulty of gaining the public ear. Young writers are buoyed up by the hope and the belief that they have only to throw that poem at the world's feet to get back in return the laurel crown, that they have only to push that novel into print to be acknowledged at once as a new light in literature.

You can never convince a young author that the editors of magazines and publishers of books are a practical body of men, who are by no means frantically anxious about placing the best literature before the public. Nay that for the most part they are mere brokers, who conduct their business on the hardest lines of a Profit and Loss Account. But supposing your book fairly launches, its perils are only beginning. You have to run the gauntlets of the critics. To a young author, again this seems to be as terrible ordeal as passing down the files of Sioux or Comanche Indians, each one of whom is thirsty for your scalp. When you are a little older, you will find that criticism is not much more serious than the bye-play of clowns in a circus, when they beat, around the ring, the victim with bladders slung at the end of long poles.

Question :

- (i) Why is the literary life mostly an unhappy one ? (2)
- (ii) What are the ambitions of a young author ? (2)
- (iii) Are editors and publishers sympathetic to young authors ? (2)
- (iv) What are some of the ordeals awaiting the young authors from the critics ? (2)
- (v) Explain the following : (6)
Laurel-crown,
To run the gaunt let,
Bye-play of clown.
