NOTIFICATION OF HELPLINE

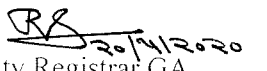

In view of the novel coronavirus pandemic we need to stay informed of the latest developments on the issue and if any apprehension takes place in our minds because of any reason or we become curious or inquisitive we must immediately seek expert advice over that and find positive solutions instead of continuing to live with it and feel unsatisfied or tense. It is very natural to have any anxiety or feel depressed or stressed but continuing to have such thoughts can cause serious problems so removing them instantly and on a positive note is absolutely essential. This University is ever ready to extend every kind of help, including counselling services through experts, and our Centre for Positive Health under the aegis of Dept of Psychology has taken this initiative known as 'SAMADHAN' [the solution]. A helpline for connecting the experts with the callers remains functional from 9a.m. to 5p.m. all seven days a week and anyone having any question pertaining to any issue during these uncertain times can dial the helpline number 01262 293232. Calls on all psychological issues will be connected with counsellors and senior psychologists. Everyone reading this notice may feel free to dial this number between 9 to 5 and be benefited with the positive health initiative under the tagline आओ जुड़ें , करें बात.
