Will invite farmers for dialogue: CM

KARNAL, DECEMBER 2
Highlighting that the farm issue was on the verge of resolution, CM Manohar Lal Khattar on Thursday said the government would invite farmers for talks on it.

The CM, who spent the night at the PWD Rest House before leaving for Rohtak, met party workers here. He discussed developmental works with officials and workers and took their feedback on various issues.

On the farmers' demand of cancellation of FIRs, he said, "We will talk about it, whenever we sit together." Urging teaching and Non-teaching Employees' Associations boycotted the CM's event on not being given the opportunity to meet Khattar for submitting a memorandum against the government decision of making recruitment at state universities through the Haryana Public Service Commission (HPSC) and Haryana Staff Selection Commission (HSSC).

MDU Teachers' Association president Vikas Siwach said: "We wanted to meet the CM to flag our concerns regarding the recruitment issue but he didn't give us time, forcing us to boycott the event."

"Since the government's decision is an attack on the autonomy of the universities, all teachers are against it and have demanded its rollback," he added.

He said the development had forced them to call an online meeting of teachers attend the meeting to sl

unity, he added. Sumer Ahlawat, presid MDU Non-Teaching Emp ees' Association, said besi the recruitment issue, t wanted to submit a me randum to the CM regarc their other demands, faced disappointment on getting time to meet h

"The pay scale for sim posts is different in m universities in the state. ' government had set up committee to look into matter, but it is yet to sub its report. We are demanc the same pay scale for sim posts in all universities. make the CM aware of it, wished to meet him but fa to do so," Ahlawat added.

Meanwhile, the released a book titled Mangal Sen- Saidhar Rajneeti Ke Pathik" on
