Speech is a great blessing, but it can also be a great curse, for, while it helps us to make our intentions and desires known to our fellows it can also, if we don't use it carefully, make our attitude completely misunder-

stood. A slip of tongue, the use of an unusual or an ambiguous word an so on may create an enemy where we had hoped to win a friend. Again, different classes of people have different vocabularies, and the ordinary speech of an educated man may strike an uneducated listener as showing pride. Unwillingly we may use a word which bears a different meaning from what it does to man of our own class. Thus speech is not a gift to use lightly without thought, but one which demands careful handling; only a fool will express himself alike to all kinds and conditions of men.

1. (a) What does M. C. Chagla tell about the nature and functioning of the International Court of Justice ? 10

or

How did Pt. Jawahar Lal Nehru influence Chagla's thoughts and perspective ?

(b) Explain with reference to the context :

There is nothing I have valued more than intellectual integrity, the right to call my soul my own, to dream my own dreams and sing my own songs. There is no sin worse than sinning against the light– whatever your light may be. Whether you call it your light or your conscience, it is the only beacon by which you can steer your bark through the rough and stormy sea of life, and particularly you do not accept the standards laid down by any established religion or creed. 4

or

I was entirely happy with my collegues, and had the most cordial relations with them. Although I had the power and authority as Chief Justice to take decisions, I never acted without consulting them, and I must say that to my good fortune, there was hardly an occasion when there was any sharp difference of opinion between myself and my colleagues on matters of administration. I used to say that we constituted a sort of joint Hindu family. The only difference was that I happen to be the Karta.

2. (a) Write synonyms of the following :

or

Write antonyms of the following :

(ii) Domestic Violence

(iii) Right to Privacy

4. Paraphrase the following stanza : 14

Let me not to the marriage of true minds
Admit impediments. Love is not love
Which alters when it alteration finds,
Or bends with the remover to remove;
O, no ! it is an ever-fixed mark,
That looks on tempests and is never shaken.

or

Know then thyself, presume not God to scan;
The proper study of mankind is man,
Placed on this isthmus of a middle state;
A being darkly wise, and rudely great;
With too much knowledge for the sceptic side.
With too much weakness for the stoic's pride
He hangs between ; in doubt to act, or rest,
In doubt to deem himself a god, or beast
In doubt his mind or body to prefer.

5. Answer the following : 24

(i) What does the term 'adhoc judge' mean in relation to International Court ?

(ii) Where did Chagla wish his sons to study ? Was this wish fulfilled ?

1. (a) What does M. C. Chagla tell about the nature and functioning of the International Court of Justice ? 10

or

How did Pt. Jawahar Lal Nehru influence Chagla's thoughts and perspective ?

(b) Explain with reference to the context :

There is nothing I have valued more than intellectual integrity, the right to call my soul my own, to dream my own dreams and sing my own songs. There is no sin worse than sinning against the light– whatever your light may be. Whether you call it your light or your conscience, it is the only beacon by which you can steer your bark through the rough and stormy sea of life, and particularly you do not accept the standards laid down by any established religion or creed. 4

or

I was entirely happy with my collegues, and had the most cordial relations with them. Although I had the power and authority as Chief Justice to take decisions, I never acted without consulting them, and I must say that to my good fortune, there was hardly an occasion when there was any sharp difference of opinion between myself and my colleagues on matters of administration. I used to say that we constituted a sort of joint Hindu family. The only difference was that I happen to be the Karta.

Let me not to the marriage of true minds
Admit impediments. Love is not love
Which alters when it alteration finds,
Or bends with the remover to remove;
O, no ! it is an ever-fixed mark,
That looks on tempests and is never shaken.

or

Know then thyself, presume not God to scan;
The proper study of mankind is man,
Placed on this isthmus of a middle state;
A being darkly wise, and rudely great;
With too much knowledge for the sceptic side.
With too much weakness for the stoic's pride
He hangs between ; in doubt to act, or rest,
In doubt to deem himself a god, or beast
In doubt his mind or body to prefer.

5. Answer the following : 24

(i) What does the term 'adhoc judge' mean in relation to International Court ?

Speech is a great blessing, but it can also be a great curse, for, while it helps us to make our intentions and desires known to our fellows it can also, if we don't use it carefully, make our attitude completely misunder-

stood. A slip of tongue, the use of an unusual or an ambiguous word an so on may create an enemy where we had hoped to win a friend. Again, different classes of people have different vocabularies, and the ordinary speech of an educated man may strike an uneducated listener as showing pride. Unwillingly we may use a word which bears a different meaning from what it does to man of our own class. Thus speech is not a gift to use lightly without thought, but one which demands careful handling; only a fool will express himself alike to all kinds and conditions of men.

Questions :

(i) How is speech both a blessing and curse ?

(ii) How can speech be used to create an enemy ?

Time allowed : 3 hours] [Maximum marks : 80

Note : All questions are compulsory.

1. (a) What does M. C. Chagla tell about the nature and functioning of the International Court of Justice ? 10

or

How did Pt. Jawahar Lal Nehru influence Chagla's thoughts and perspective ?

(b) Explain with reference to the context :

There is nothing I have valued more than intellectual integrity, the right to call my soul my own, to dream my own dreams and sing my own songs. There is no sin worse than sinning against the light– whatever your light may be. Whether you call it your light or your conscience, it is the only beacon by which you can steer your bark through the rough and stormy sea of life, and particularly you do not accept the standards laid down by any established religion or creed. 4

or

I was entirely happy with my collegues, and had the most cordial relations with them. Although I had the power and authority as Chief Justice to take decisions, I never acted without consulting them, and I must say that to my good fortune, there was hardly an occasion when there was any sharp difference of opinion between myself and my colleagues on matters of administration. I used to say that we constituted a sort of joint Hindu family. The only difference was that I happen to be the Karta.

2. (a) Write synonyms of the following :

Benevolent ; Bogus; Ecstasy ; Detest; Rival 5

or

Write antonyms of the following :

(i) Right to Information

(ii) Domestic Violence

(iii) Right to Privacy

(iv) Cyber Crime

4. Paraphrase the following stanza : 14

Let me not to the marriage of true minds
Admit impediments. Love is not love
Which alters when it alteration finds,
Or bends with the remover to remove;
O, no ! it is an ever-fixed mark,
That looks on tempests and is never shaken.

or

Know then thyself, presume not God to scan;
The proper study of mankind is man,
Placed on this isthmus of a middle state;
A being darkly wise, and rudely great;
With too much knowledge for the sceptic side.
With too much weakness for the stoic's pride
He hangs between ; in doubt to act, or rest,
In doubt to deem himself a god, or beast
In doubt his mind or body to prefer.

5. Answer the following : 24

(i) What does the term 'adhoc judge' mean in relation to International Court ?

(ii) Where did Chagla wish his sons to study ? Was this wish fulfilled ?

Speech is a great blessing, but it can also be a great curse, for, while it helps us to make our intentions and desires known to our fellows it can also, if we don't use it carefully, make our attitude completely misunder-

stood. A slip of tongue, the use of an unusual or an ambiguous word an so on may create an enemy where we had hoped to win a friend. Again, different classes of people have different vocabularies, and the ordinary speech of an educated man may strike an uneducated listener as showing pride. Unwillingly we may use a word which bears a different meaning from what it does to man of our own class. Thus speech is not a gift to use lightly without thought, but one which demands careful handling; only a fool will express himself alike to all kinds and conditions of men.

Questions :

(i) How is speech both a blessing and curse ?

(ii) How can speech be used to create an enemy ?

Case Study

9. In a market dominated by behemoths like SAIL and TISCO, finding a niche is of crucial importance for a small player. What could Lloyds do with a meagre annual capacity of making six lakh tonnes of HR coils as against

1,600 lakh tonnes sold by SAIL during the same period. Should Lloyds follow the market leader or adopt its own unique approach to its business strategy. It was in the context of such questions that Lloyds' attention came to rest on the manufacturing process.

Almost all the steel producers were adopting the blast furnace technology. In this, the process starts with a clear differentiation among the ultimate products to be manufactured. So manufacturing batch size had to be large enough to take up customised products. The raw material, iron ore, has to pass through several complex stages of manufacturing.

Lloyds looked for an alternative technology that could suit its requirements. The solution laid in the Electric Arc furnance technology whose unique featurs was that initial manufacturing stages need not differentiate among different products. Such a differentiation came at a much later stage. Translated into a business proposition, what is meant was that Lloyds could operate with a smaller batch size of, say 100 tonnes and deliver quickly. For instance, a 1,000 tonne small order of specialised product custom-made to buyer's specification could be delivered in as little as 15 days. Such a quick delivery schedule would not be possible for a large, integrated steel manufacturer. In this manner, analogous to small gunboats that could effectively torpedo a large, slow-moving ship, Lloyds carved out a niche in the highly competitive steel market.

Question

Comment on the nature of business strategy of Lloyds. What are the conditions in which such a strategy would succeed or fail ?
