ABOUT FDP

New Education Policy 2020 aims to create independent self-governing Higher Education institutions with a culture of excellence and innovation in higher education institutions. Self-governing institutions with Graded autonomy will require leadership of the highest quality to promote an institutional culture of excellence, engagement with their local communities, and the highest standards of financial probity and accountability. Along with high academic qualification, administrative and leadership capabilities with abilities to manage complex situation need to be nurtured among young faculty members. Leaders of an HEI needs to demonstrate strong alignment to Constitutional values and the overall vision of the institution, along with attributes such as a strong social commitment, belief in teamwork, pluralism, ability to work with diverse people, and a positive outlook. Outstanding leaders need to be identified and developed early, working their way through a ladder of leadership positions to ensure smooth transitions.

This FDP aims to upgrade teaching, training, communication and leadership skills among the faculty. The program enables participants to develop an appreciation for the changing roles & responsibilities of the teachers and to prepare for the same.

The key objectives of this FDP are:

- To sensitize the young faculty to take an increasing leadership roles in HEIs
- To foster the culture of developing leadership skills among teachers.
- To share best practices for individual and institutional development.
- To provide meaningful and actionable inputs, to refine the strategies and to prepare a “Roadmap” to further enhance the ranking position, recognition, accreditation and grading process.
- To get acquainted with quality assurance, metrics, guidelines and accreditation process of NAAC
- To gain knowledge about the various steps involved in NIRF Framework and calculation of points
- To create awareness amongst teachers, students, officials and other stakeholders in the higher education system about the implications of NEP 2020.

Learning Outcome

Through the uniquely designed experiential and participatory sessions, participants shall:

- Redefine and fine-tune their leadership role according to New Education Policy
- Recognize the challenges in HEIs and Enhance skills for effectively managing leadership challenges of the millennium
