

Shraddha feared for her life from partner: Friends

Mumbai: A close friend of Maharashtra resident Shraddha Walkar, who was killed allegedly by her live-in partner Aaftab Poonawala in Delhi, has said there could be a "big conspiracy" behind her murder, while another friend...

about her in August after being unable to contact her. Walkar was not replying to his messages and her number was coming switched-off, he said, adding that he had also enquired about her in their friend circle.

Police take Aaftab to forest where he dumped partner's body parts

Cops Recreate Crime Scene To

him according to his family and friends never got into a skirmish. While his father, Amin, wanted him to study and complete his graduation, Aaftab was keen on business. He left both midway.

Friends and family refuse to believe Aaftab's involvement in the gruesome crime. "Aaftab is reserved by nature. He was confused about what to do in life and that was worrying his father. But it is difficult to believe that he committed a gruesome murder," said a family friend.

His family, belonging to the Khoja community, had tried to dissuade him from pursuing his relationship with Shraddha. Although he moved to a rented home in Evershine City, Vasai, he kept in touch with his parents and younger brother.

BOTH DROPPED OUT OF COLLEGE, STARTED WORK EARLY

him pursuing his relationship with Shraddha. It was during his stint as a graphic designer that he met Shraddha on a dating app in 2019

Shraddha had not met his family, said the family friend.

After completing Class 12 from St Peter's Junior College in 2011, he moved to Pune to do business. He was back in a few months and joined a Santacruz-based college to pursue his Bachelor in Management Studies. "He left his studies halfway and tried his hand at several things," said a school friend, who lost touch with him.

It was during his stint as him. Then, in had come as a shock to friends of both Aaftab and Shraddha. They were open about it and often partied together," said a friend. Aaftab had been in relationships in the past and had been vocal about these.

Police sources said Aaftab's parents too were initially unaware about the couple's move to Delhi. He had told them about landing a job in July and that he had called off his relationship with Shraddha.

His parents got worried when he was called for questioning by the police in Vasai.

His parents and younger brother had moved to Mira Road 3 months ago. His father left for Delhi this weekend.

Maharashtra a fortnight ago, members shift to Mumbai, a society member said Tuesday.

"Aaftab Poonawala had visited Unique Park Housing Society in Vasai around 15 days back to help his family members who shifted from the society to Mumbai," housing society member said.

The society member recalled that Aaftab spoke mally during his visit.

"No one can even think that he had committed such heinous crime," he said.

He said the Poonawalas own a flat in the society lived there for 20 years before shifting. Nobody ever complained against them.

"When we asked them the reason behind Aaftab's father told us that his son got a job in and his company will pay rent. They also spoke convenience (about shuttling between Mumbai, which is in Palghar district and part of the Metropolitan Region)," he said.

The housing society's secretary Abdullah lives on the third floor of the wing where the flat have a flat, said Aaftab and his family members to other residents. The crime triggered rage. PTI
